

Waterways Postgraduate Student Conference 2022

Sponsorship Opportunities

The Waterways Postgraduate Student Conference, set for Tuesday, 8 November 2022 at the University of Canterbury, showcases the range of freshwater-related research being undertaken by postgraduate students at the University of Canterbury and Lincoln University. This year the conference format will change slightly, with the usual 12-minute presentations mixed with 5-minute lightning talks and posters.

Organisations are welcome to talk to us about providing a prize of their own with their sponsorship.

The Conference sees excellent attendance by members of academia, government, Crown Research Institutes, industry, and NGO's. Attendance is free thanks to our generous sponsors – there are several levels of sponsorship which are recognised in the following ways:
